Success by Excess

Saturday April 29, 2017 9:30 AM-10:30 AM
Reservations Required-Free Admission
Free Refreshments/Rain or Shine 501-614-3000

When done properly, nothing is more successful in a garden than "Excess".
Planting in mass is a time honored technique.

Imagine if you will, a tightly trimmed shrub blended with vibrant drifts of colorful perennials, almost evoking a sense of sensuality appreciated by many but understood by only a few. Ross Pascal, Botanica's knowledgeable horticulturist, will be speaking about such techniques and what types of plants, available only at Botanica, can be used to successfully give you that excess and abundance you desire for your garden.
